2. Definitions and explanations

This declaration must include details on all De-minimis aid which your company or any relevant affiliated companies have received in the ongoing calendar year, as well as in the preceding two calendar years.

Relevant affiliated companies (and therefore „a single company“ in the sense of the De-minimis directive) are for the purposes of De-minimis aid, all companies who are affiliated to one another in the sense of at least one of the following relationships:

- a company holds a majority of the voting rights of the owner or partner of another company
- a company is authorised to appoint or dismiss a majority of the members of the administrative, management or supervisory board of another company
- a company is authorised on the basis of an agreement or a clause in the articles of association to exercise a dominant influence over another company
- a company that is the shareholder or partner of another company exercises, pursuant to an agreement met with the other partners or shareholders of this other company, the sole control over the majority of the voting rights of its partners or shareholders.

In addition, companies which are mutually in one of the aforementioned relationships via one or more companies are also considered „one single company“.

De-minimis aid arising from the merger or take-over of the new or taken-over company which has occurred in the ongoing calendar year or in the previous two calendar years must also be included. In the event of the splitting up of a company, the De-minimis aid is assigned to the company which takes over the divisions which were awarded the De-minimis aid. If this is not possible, the De-minimis aid must be split up pro rata amongst the new companies on the basis of the book value of the equity.
